Statement of reasons

This notice, which comes into force on the day after the date of its notification in the Gazette and expires on 31 August 2015, replaces the Securities Act (Royal Dutch Shell plc) Exemption Notice 2006 (the 2006 notice), which expired on 31 July 2010.

This new exemption notice renews the exemptions in the 2006 notice and exempts registered banks, overseas banks, Shell Todd Oil Services Limited (Shell Todd), and any subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell plc (RDS), and any person acting on behalf of any of them, from sections 33(2), 37, 37A, 38A, and 51 to 54B of the Securities Act 1978 and the Securities Regulations 2009 (except regulation 23) (the 2009 regulations).

The exemptions apply, subject to the same conditions that were specified in the 2006 notice, to debt securities issued to employees or directors of Shell Todd or a subsidiary of RDS in connection with an employee share purchase scheme.

The Securities Commission considers that it is appropriate to renew the exemptions granted in the 2006 notice because—

- one of the companies operated by the Shell Group in New Zealand is a 50/50 joint venture company owned by Shell (Petroleum Mining) Company Limited and Todd Petroleum Mining Company Limited. The Shell Group will extend the offer of debt securities to employees of that company. Those employees are likely to have knowledge of RDS on the basis of their employment with the joint venture company. The offer to those employees prevents reliance on the Securities Act (Overseas Employee Share Purchase Schemes) Exemption Notice 2002 (the OESPS class exemption), because the joint venture company is not a subsidiary of RDS. In other respects the offer would comply with the OESPS class exemption:
- it is similar in all material respects to the exemptions granted in the 2006 notice, as well as to exemptions granted previously to another issuer. The Securities Commission considers the exemptions are consistent with the policy of the OESPS class exemption and with the previous exemptions:
- the exemption from the 2009 regulations (except regulation 23) has the same effect as the previous exemption from the Securities Regulations 1983 (except regulation 8) in the 2006 notice. This is because the 2009 regulations have not introduced requirements significantly different from or additional to those in the 2006 notice.
